

From Cayden's mom:

“Cayden was not exhibiting any issues with his eye sight prior to the screening. He received an eye exam/screening with CubSight at his elementary school. His screening was abnormal and recommendations were made for corrective lenses and to follow up with an Ophthalmologist for further evaluation. We did follow up with a pediatric ophthalmologist, who agreed with the recommendation of CubSight for corrective lenses. Turns out, Cayden has a significant astigmatism. We purchased his first pair of glasses that same day.

Now that Cayden is wearing glasses, I can notice a difference in how he reads and looks at things. Wearing glasses has changed his view of things. He says that he sees much better. He enjoyed picking out his frame. We even got cool transition lenses that turn in to shades. He is often complimented on how handsome he looks with his glasses.”
